“When you obey my LAWS, Rules and The Principles of Life, you will benefit”

Discourse

Everything is Duty.

Obedience is important.

For each Atma in Janam, GOD has reserved uncountable benefits.

For each act of obedience, there is a corresponding benefit.

A Benefit is something positive given to an individual by GOD as an incentive or as a reward.

The moment that you initiate an act in compliance with The Teachings, at that very moment you become eligible to receive a benefit from GOD.

Benefits are available to the Atma, to the body and to the mind.

When an individual lives according to The Teachings, he or she gets a reward for every duty or deed carried out.

Your benefits are dependent on your act or actions.

When you do obey, you receive the benefits from GOD.

Should you decide to ignore The LAWS, Rules and The Principles of Life, there is no penalty.

If you do not obey, you do not receive the benefits.

The loss of benefits is a self-imposed punishment.

Comment: The loss of benefits is a self-imposed penalty.

GOD has earmarked a plethora of benefits for each individual.

The key to taking those benefits is in the hands of each individual.

All a person has to do is to live according to The Teachings so that he or she can obtain all the benefits earmarked for him or her.

Comment 1: PARAMATMA has not laid down any qualifications, prohibitions, restrictions or conditions for the Atma or the body+mind upon which the duty devolves to carry out The Life Task.

Comment 2: I am required to obey The Teachings.

Comment 3: Whenever I obey The Teachings, my physical body+mind and my Atma shall receive benefits in addition to the associated spiritual benefits.

Comment 4: There are unique benefits for the Atma whenever a Duty is carried out.

Comment 5: There are unique benefits for the Mind whenever a Duty is carried out.

Comment 6: There are unique benefits for the Body whenever a Duty is carried out.
